

Look into the mind of the cyber attacker

How easily can your life be hacked? Find out Wednesday, Oct. 18 at 6 p.m. at Bloomfield Public Library when cyber security expert Eric Favetta presents a talk on securing identity and managing invasive e-mails and phone calls. Favetta has worked in counter-terrorism in the finance, health and government sectors. He'll delve into the minds of attackers, what they look for, and techniques they use. Residents and business owners are encouraged to attend this free event. For information, call (973) 566-6200.