

Free garden tours, Sept. 23

Free, self-guided tours of area organic gardens will take place Saturday, Sept. 23, all sponsored by the Cornucopia Network of NJ. For updated tour particulars, visit www.facebook.com/events/486297765070344.

■ Pulaski Park Community Garden, Bloomfield, corner of Mt. Vernon and Howard, will be open from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The garden's 27 plots are fully rented and growing beautifully. Park in the Mt. Vernon lot off Chapel.

■ 56 Gordonhurst Avenue, Montclair – Homeowner Pat Kenschafst will open her garden for touring from 9 to 11 a.m. Kenschafst grows most of her family's year-round vegetables with no poisons, power machinery, or commercial fertilizers.

■ Montclair High School Experimental Garden - More than 15 raised beds featuring a variety of vegetables, greens and experimental plants, will be on display. The beds are used year-round by biology and STEM students. The garden is located outside the 9th grade academy at the corner of North Fullerton and Chestnut streets. Check Facebook for an update on hours.

■ Montclair Community Pre-K Garden, 49 Orange Road – The garden is open for self-guided tours every weekend. Enter from the Board of Education building, 22 Valley Road. Park to the right of the building.
