

Law Firm Offers Free Evaluation of Auto Insurance Policies

Back in 2019, Michigan lawmakers passed sweeping No-Fault Auto Reform Legislation. Under the new laws (effective in 2020), Michigan auto insurance companies were no longer obligated to provide mandatory unlimited medical coverage for auto-related injuries. While the changes have resulted in a modest reduction in premiums, the coverage available for serious injuries has been dramatically reduced.

The new law provides for a “cafeteria” style approach to medical expense coverage. Medicare recipients (along with others in their household), may “opt-out” of medical expense coverage entirely. Medicaid-eligible persons may purchase a minimum coverage of $50,000 (limited availability under this option.) Motorists may choose between three types of medical coverage options: limits of $250,000, $500,000, or unlimited coverage.

Make sure that you and your loved ones are properly covered should a serious injury automobile accident occur.

Our office is offering free consultations for anyone wishing to review their automobile policies with our staff of lawyers. If you are interested in meeting with a lawyer free of charge to review your automobile policy, please call us at 1-800-MUST WIN.

Thanksgiving Eve Bar Celebrations Can Bring Lawsuits?

The Wednesday before Thanksgiving, known as the biggest bar night of the year, is not always a happy homecoming for patrons, bouncers, or bar owners. Moss & Colella has handled dozens of bar liability cases in our history and knows that when drinking leads to drunkenness or injury in rowdy bars, lawsuits may follow.

A. Vince Colella, managing partner of personal injury and civil rights law firm Moss & Colella, has a warning for Thanksgiving Eve revelers... <https://www.instagram.com/p/Cz3zyB3sS0a/>
