ARKANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY
THREE RIVERS

"The tools learned from the Professional Development Training developed by DDI and taught by instructors from ASUTR are invaluable to any supervisor, manager, or front line leader. The training is focused on delivering measurable change that participants can implement immediately. Though I participated in this training several years ago, and have been using the tools I learned ever since, I continue to enroll and participate in the same courses because they reinforce what I learned and keep the concepts fresh in my mind. Enroll now if you want to be a better leader!"

Impact Statement from Matt Johnson
HR Business Partner, Siplast

ASU Three Rivers Professional Development Academy uses Development Dimensions International (DDI) curriculum, which is well-researched, experience tested concepts to develop current and future leaders for business and industry and is presented in a flexible way allowing an organization to customize the academy to best meet their needs.
