

We welcome Doug Ray to Grace!

Douglas is a retired law school dean who teaches part-time at the University of South Carolina Law School. He and his wife Caroline, a retired elementary school teacher, have lived in Fort Mill for six years, previously living in Minnesota, Virginia, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and, most recently, Florida.

Their son and his family live in Fort Mill, and their daughter and her family live in Ardmore, PA. Douglas and Caroline are blessed with a total of five grandchildren!

Both serve as fill-in Bible study leaders at Philadelphia United Methodist in Fort Mill where Caroline is an active member. They enjoy travel, and Doug also plays tennis on a regular basis.

An interesting fact...Doug dropped out of college after one year and volunteered for the draft during the Viet Nam war but, instead, the Army taught him Arabic and sent him to Africa for 18 months!

Please take time to welcome Doug to Grace!
