Evidence-Based Intervention Training in Education EBITE-Ohio

Are you working in a school or district and want to learn more about using evidence-based interventions (EBIs) to improve student outcomes? Is your school/district seeking to improve its skills at selecting, implementing, or evaluating EBIs? Are you a researcher or faculty member interested in working more effectively with local schools/districts in their use of EBIs?

EBITE-Ohio* is here to help!

EBITE-Ohio is a joint effort of The Ohio State University (OSU) and Ohio University (OU) and is supported through a grant from the Institute of Education Sciences (IES). EBITE-Ohio works with school and district teams to build capacity for the use of EBIs in education by engaging education professionals in training and networking experiences and through individualized coaching.

- 2021 Open to Ohio school, district, and education professionals
- 4-day summer workshop (virtual)
- Academic-year coaching from EBI and evaluation experts
- National rollout in 2022
