

Joshua Fixler is the Associate Rabbi at Congregation Emanu El in Houston, Texas. He serves as the President of the Faith Leaders Coalition of Greater Houston and a steering committee member for the Religious Action Center of Texas. He is also a member of the board of directors for the Religious Coalition for Reproductive Choice.

Rabbi Fixler was ordained at Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion in New York. In his final two years at HUC, he served as the Rabbinic Intern at Beth Haverim Shir Shalom in Mahwah, NJ. While at HUC, he also completed a Certificate in Nonprofit Management from New York University's Wagner Graduate School of Public Service.

Rabbi Fixler has been privileged to have participated in a number of leadership training programs which have contributed to his professional and spiritual growth, including the Wexner Graduate Fellowship and the Tisch Rabbinical Fellowship. Joshua graduated from the University of Maryland in 2007 with a degree in Organizational Development and Community Leadership.

Rabbi Fixler's article, Mishpatim -- Stricken from the Text: Sacred Stories of Reproductive Justice, which he co-authored with Rabbi Emily Langowitz is featured in the Social Justice Torah Commentary from the CCAR Press.