

Crosscut Saw Giveaway – The Next Step

By Darrell Wallace

Remember the February story about BCH Washington member Tom Faubion having a deal for you: he will GIVE you a refurbished crosscut saw if you agree to use it clearing trails?

Tom produced 28 saws for distribution in March. Darrell dropped off seven saws on his drive to the NBM in Casper, Wyoming, then handed out a dozen saws to people present at the meeting and shipped the rest via USPS (all had hose sheaths and were wrapped in cardboard).

Now it's time for Phase 2. First, Tom and Darrell are looking for more saws to recondition. Any rusty old hulk is probably worthy of shipping to Tom for inspection, but if you really have doubts, send Darrell a photo. BCH Washington obtained limited funding to pay for shipping, so it will cost you nothing to donate a crosscut saw to Phase 2. PLEASE look in Grandpa's old barn or try to talk a collector out of an ugly looking saw. We have promises of a few from BCH Montana members, and two from Washington members, already.

A few late requests for a saw have now been assigned to Phase 2 and will be filled as soon as Tom finishes more saws. In order to apply for one or more saws, OR if anyone has questions about donating a rusty old saw, contact Darrell Wallace dlwallace700@gmail.com.
