Today's world is constantly changing and we all need to make the necessary adjustments to try and keep up. But, what happens if you are struggling with these changes and don't know how to handle them or even react. What if you find yourself having to manage people and you have not been given the tools or any training to do so. Well, know you are not alone and we are here to help you learn to lead by example!

MACCI is pleased to present a half-day program on "Moving from Employee to Leader". During this session you will:

- Understand the skills necessary to transition to a leadership role
- Explore the different work relationships and what to take into consideration as a new manager
- Identify your working style and how to best work with others
- Understand what drives management and employees
- Share a lesson you have learned in business

Our presenter is Judy Meyer who is President of Meyer & Associates LLC, a Dale Carnegie franchise of 15 counties in Central, Northern, and Western Wisconsin. As a small business owner she understands and appreciates the challenges with today's environment and the need to sharpen our skills and secure an even stronger market share.
