

HOMECOMING

For everything there is a season
Homecoming being remembered
Always the deeper call

One with the One
This Love calling me home
Home to myself the deepest call

What did this even mean
I'd forgotten this Truth
For so many years
Letting messages of others
Decide who I was

Then one day
Hearing the message
So many years ago
At my first Unity service
"you've come home"
Not even knowing what this meant
But never forgetting that message
Of this lifetime call
A homecoming journey
Seeded deep in my soul

Remember Beloved and hear
The depth and love
Of this ancient call

Shine your uniqueness
Don't let anyone/anything
Forever tarnish
Your beauty
Your light

Use everything as a teaching
To remember
This ancient homecoming call

If only I could remember
A little sooner when life gets tough
When some experiences might even Bring me to my knees
Even this a lesson only to Love
Is this ancient call

But

Little by little
The remembering began continues
A labyrinth of experiences
Twists and turns
Highs and lows
Gradually trusting more and more always
Held in this presence
I choose to call Home

Each day a new beginning
New opportunity
To give thanks and bring
More of me Home
In my homecoming calls

Blessed Be
