

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

NEVADA STATE COLLEGE

Dear Faculty and Staff,

My name is Alexander Kunkle, and I am the new Director of Academic Advising for the Academic Advising Center here at NSC. In my previous role at an institution of similar size and student population, I coordinated advising services and advisor training through a centralized advising center much like the AAC here. I am extremely excited to step into this role and look for ways to enhance the quality of services provided by the AAC. Over the next few weeks, I will be reaching out to many of you to discuss your thoughts on advising here at NSC, but if you had any points you would like to share, please feel free to reach out to me.

Some of the first few things I plan to address here in the AAC will be increasing access for our students, developing and communicating the primary mission of advising in the AAC, and developing training opportunities related to advising approaches and theory for the AAC staff, and any faculty and staff who may be interested in advisor training.

I look forward to beginning a campus dialog related to academic advising here at NSC and how we can best serve our students.

Alex
