

Donald Gardner & Associates is an excellent site to generate ideas and even find complete plans that might work for you with some minor modifications. If you find something you like on these sites you can save a lot of money compared to starting a design from scratch.

The best thing about these sites are their advanced search features. Say you want to find a home for your 50' wide lot in Rehoboth. By using the Advanced Search function, you can specify a house footprint that meets the required setbacks for a Rehoboth lot. Then enter variables related to your preferred style, number of bedrooms and dozens of other features that are important to you. The web site will return every plan in their library that meets your criteria.
