

Branden Cottingham

Branden just marked his seventh anniversary with Turnstone. During that time, we have enjoyed watching Branden learn and grow, as a tradesman and a person. Everyone who has built with Turnstone since 2010 has seen Branden as a regular presence around their new home under construction.

Branden started as a laborer, but quickly displayed that he is eager to learn and always willing to help. Today Branden is much more involved in the providing the high-end fits and finishes of the home that our clients expect. What is most impressive about Branden is the “can do” attitude he brings to every assignment, even if it is something menial and not particularly challenging to him.

When he isn’t working, he likes to watch movies, eat out at restaurants and play with his two children, Braylen, age 9 and Alise, age 5.

A hard worker with a perpetual smile and high personal standards of integrity and craftsmanship – that is Branden Cottingham!
