

Questions Game

God Is a Personal Spirit: Questions Game (Ages 4-10)

Instructions: The purpose of this game is to get to know one another better. You may choose to write these questions on separate 3x5 cards, mix them up, and allow each family member to draw a question when it is their turn. If you prefer, you may go in order according to the numbers on the card rather than making separate cards.

Begin by allowing the youngest member to draw a question first. Read the question aloud and have everyone write down how they think the youngest would answer the question. The youngest will tell everyone what his/her answer to the question is and then everyone will share what they wrote down. Each person who guesses correctly receives one point.

Continue playing by going around in a circle until everyone has had a turn to draw a card. Tally each person's points. The person with the most points wins.
