What to Know if You're in a Car Wreck

STOP IMMEDIATELY

Failure to stop may be regarded as a hit and run, which is a crime.

CALL 911

Call 911 even if there seems to be minimal damage. A police report could make all the difference if the other driver claims it's your fault or long-term injuries arise.

ACCIDENT DETAILS

Take pictures of all vehicles involved and make sure to get all the details at the scene of the accident as soon as possible.

DO'S AND DON'TS

- DO exchange insurance and contact information.
- DO take photos of both vehicles, license plates, and any other relevant details at the scene.
- DON'T admit fault.
- DON'T discuss your insurance policy limits.
- DON'T accept roadside settlements. There may be hidden damage or injury for you or your vehicle.
