AIA HONOLULU - 5x5x5 MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

2021 Mentors

Cord Anderson

Director, Development - The Howard Hughes Corporation

Cord Anderson works for the Howard Hughes Corporation at their Ward Village master plan development in Kaka'ako. His position is Director, Development and has been with the company for 4.5 years. The majority of his time and efforts have been focused as the development team lead for the Kewalo Basin Harbor revitalization project, Ke Kilohana, Victoria Place, and Ulana. Cord enjoys the collaborative nature of his work and engaging with the various design team members and in-house

Design & Construction Management (DCM) team. Prior to joining The Howard Hughes Corporation, Cord worked for several years for DTL and WCIT Architecture. He was born and raised on the Big Island and graduated from Iolani School before completing his bachelor's degree at Santa Clara University. Cord currently sits as the Vice-Chair for the Honolulu City & County Planning Commission and coaches boys basketball at Iolani School.

Jennifer Camp, AIA

Principal Architect - hi•arch•y llp

Jennifer's passion for architecture and design was instilled in her at a very young age; as design, Architecture, and Engineering has been in her family for four generations. With her grandfather's encouragement, Jennifer studied abroad in Como, Italy where she developed her love of travel, respect for cultural diversity, and the deep understanding that architecture reinforces the culture it is a part of. Jennifer always looks forward to collaborating and designing to create spaces that supports a culture that is engaging. As a principal of hi•arch•y llp, Mrs. Camp brings over 25 years of experience to the firm. She has extensive leadership experience in mixed-use and community center projects locally on Oahu and in Los Angeles. Jennifer is a board member (and incoming president) of NAIOP Hawaii and volunteers her time with non-profit organizations focused on sustainability and workplace satisfaction and safety. She is a founding member of Hawaii Healthy Building Experts.

Kamea Hadar

Artist, Co-lead Director of POW WOW! Worldwide

Kamea Hadar grew up in the worlds of his Japanese/Korean mother and Israeli father. He began studying drawing and painting from a young age. As a child he took classes at the Honolulu Art Academy and University of Hawaii; and spent periods living, studying and creating at the Sorbonne in Paris, University of St. Louis in Madrid and the University of Tel Aviv, Israel. He currently resides in Honolulu, HI and is Co-

Lead Director of POW! WOW! Worldwide. Although Kamea's work is based in traditional portraiture it has evolved off of the canvas to large scale murals and installations that can be found in cities around the world.

Chad Okinaka, AIA

Principal and Director of Project Operations - Inform Design

Chad Okinaka has been with Inform Design since its inception in 2002. He has a passion for design excellence as well as developing and contributing to processes that improve the firm's operations. His role is multi-faceted at the Executive, Project Production and Project Management levels. At the Executive level, his responsibilities include marketing, presentations, proposals and new business development. As the firm's Director of Project Operations, he is responsible for overall management of the firm's project production including manpower allocations and budgeting, quality control assurances, project oversight, mentoring junior staff and development of internal standards and procedures. As Project Manager he has successfully completed a wide range of projects including retail, education, medical, military, hospitality, religious, office & a few custom residential home projects. Past projects most notably include an AIA Award of Excellence & National American Resort Development (ARDA) award. He also served as a member of the AIA Board of Directors & Design Awards Committee. On the sustainable design front, he has been a LEEP AP since 2006 and served on the Green House Hawaii project, City Council's Task Force on Sustainability and the AIA Committee on the Environment (COTE).

Sheryl Seaman, AIA, IIDA, LEED AP

Principal, Vice Chair - G70

Ms. Seaman has more than 40 years of experience in the design field in both Architecture and Interior Design in Hawaii, Japan, Australia, Indonesia, and Malaysia. With G70 since 1978, she formed the Interior Design Department in 1985 from a conviction that people are most affected by the things they see touch and feel every day. Her goal is to foster creativity and well-being for all people where they work and play.

Therefore, her award-winning work is focused on hospitality, healthcare, and workplace environments.
