

William Blaine-Wallace

MENDING the SPACE BETWEEN

7 Habits of Contemplative Justice

Foreword by Sara Lawrence-Lightfoot

SOCIAL SCIENCE / Activism & Social Justice
RELIGION / Christian Theology / Ethics
SOCIAL SCIENCE / Volunteer Work

JUNE

ISBN 978-1-62698-647-3

192pp, 5³/₈ x 8¹/₄

$30.00 paperback

"Discerning and intellectually probing."

—from the Foreword by Sara Lawrence-Lightfoot
Harvard University

A relation-based prophetic life is populated by people that matter having conversations that matter awakening passion for what matters.

From Rev. Dr. Blaine-Wallace, Episcopal priest, pastoral counselor, spiritual director, and activist comes a call to action for individuals and communities. This book offers steadfast, collaborative ways to pursue justice grounded in contemplation and compassion. William Blaine-Wallace constructs 7 relational positions that enliven the inner and outer dimensions of our faith and awaken passion for prophetic change.

"Timely and capacious. Distills wisdom from a lifetime of healing ministry, accompaniment, and discerning the spirit."

—Kwok Pui-lan, Episcopal Divinity School

"The author summons us to pray, behold, engage, bridge, host, remember, and pause. A gift for our souls."

—Catherine Meeks PhD
author, The Night is Long but Light Comes in the Morning

"A devout skeptic, I once attended an Episcopal Mass. The sermon by Bill Blaine-Wallace was spellbinding, heart-rending, endlessly honest. I kept coming back. In this book, Bill evokes the same passion for action. Hear him out, skeptic or no. You will thank Whomever."

—Paul Solman
economics correspondent, PBS News Hour

PRE-ORDER NOW FROM YOUR FAVORITE BOOKSELLER, INCLUDING

BOOKSHOP.ORG
BARNESANDNOBLE.COM
AMAZON.COM

ORBIS  BOOKS
A Ministry of Maryknoll Fathers and Brothers
OrbisBooks.com