AN INTERFAITH ENCOUNTER

Sunday, October 30

1:30 p.m. to 5:15 p.m.

There is no them and they,
just a sea of us and we.

Come explore a new way for Muslims, Jews, and Christians to be together with sensitivity to one another's faiths. Against the backdrop of the recent divisive political rhetoric in this country that has demonized "the other," our hope is to look at the three Abrahamic faiths, represented by three speakers, in an effort to move beyond passive acceptance of those who hold different religious beliefs to a place of seeing all people as brothers and sisters.

We hope to find unity in diversity and to come to a belief that what is held separately can be richer in relationship.
