

Tashi Trieu

Visual Finishing Artist & Colorist

Tashi Trieu is a visual finishing artist and colorist with over fifteen years of post-production experience across feature films, episodic television, commercials, and short-form content. His credits span some of the most technically ambitious productions in cinema — from Star Wars: The Force Awakens to James Cameron's Avatar: The Way of Water — with a commitment to serving each project's distinct visual language.

With a deep background in compositing, digital photography, and film photography, Tashi brings a nuanced understanding of image-making to every grade. He holds extensive technical knowledge in color science, image processing, and the end-to-end digital post-production workflow.
