

Doug Delaney
Senior Colorist

Doug Delaney is a senior colorist with decades of experience shaping imagery for screens both big and small. His career began in the foundational world of celluloid film imaging and photochemical color, continued through the transformative era of digital intermediate, and now extends into the evolving landscape of modern color and finishing. That perspective gives Doug a rare understanding of how technology, craft, and storytelling come together to create compelling images