

Slay your Midterm Essay!

Schedule it → Plan when you will complete what sections each day leading up to the deadline. Leave the day before it's due as an 'editing day'.

Write an outline → This can be the focus of one of the days you set time aside to work on the essay

3 Quotes → Have a list of at least 3 quotes you can use in the paper.

Cite → your sources before you start working so it's easier to remember to embed them in the text.

2 editors → Have at least 2 people look over your essay. I recommend one person who is in the class and one person who is not.

Flow → Have a sentence at the beginning and end of each paragraph that connects it to the latter or future section.

Make an appointment with the BUGS study skills tutor using the QR

Tips on Essay Writing

1. Schedule it → Plan when you will complete what sections each day leading up to the deadline.. Leave the day before it's due as an 'editing day'.
2. Write an outline → this can be the focus of one of the days you set time aside to work on the essay
3. Three quotes → Have a list of at least 3 quotes you can use in the paper.
4. Cite → your sources before you start working so it's easier to remember to embed them in the text.
5. Two editors → Have at least 2 people look over your essay. I recommend one person who is in the class and one person who is not.
6. Flow → Have a sentence at the beginning and end of each paragraph that connects it to the latter or future section.