December 31, 2021

Dear CACREP Standard Revision Committee:

This letter serves as the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification’s (CRCC) public comments on DRAFT 2 of the CACREP 2024 Standards.

CRCC recently completed its Job Task Analysis (JTA) also known as the Role and Function Study. The article summarizing the findings will be published in the 2nd quarter of 2022.

The JTA serves as a “blueprint” for the content (educational/performance domains) of the Certified Rehabilitation Counselor (CRC) examination. The JTA was created to define the current knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSAs) that must be demonstrated by CRC professionals providing rehabilitation counseling services effectively and successfully. KSAs are validated according to their frequency of use and importance.

For purposes of the CACREP Standard Revision, I am including a copy of the final CRCC 2022 CRC Domain Blueprint derived from the JTA.

The CRC is the only national accredited counselor certification. CRCC has been accredited by the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (ICE)/National Commission for Credentialing Agencies (NCCA) since 1983. As an accredited certification organization, we must regularly seek to define roles and functions of our representative professions using the evidence-based literature as well as knowledge from those in practice to identify what the current roles and functions are and then give guidance to the construction or revision of the Body of Knowledge used to educate rehabilitation counselors. In fact, the establishment of a valid job analysis is essential to the integrity of a credentialing program and its associated exam. The job analysis translates the knowledge, skills, and abilities of career practice into a usable format for test development and delineates the important tasks and knowledge deemed necessary for competent practice. The job analysis helps ensure the CRC Certification Exam is both job-related and has content validity. The JTA is the tool that links the content of the certification exam to field-identified important job tasks and is an essential component in establishing the content validity of a credentialing exam. The final product, the CRCC Domain Blueprint becomes the framework to ensure quality outcomes for individuals and their families and data driven outcomes for the employers. Effective decision-making processes are integral to successful outcomes.

The final “blueprint” should be the guiding document used by CACREP to develop competency-based clinical rehabilitation counseling educational standards.

CRC 2022 Domain Blueprint compared to CACREP Draft 2 - 2024 Standards

CRCC has taken several steps to outline the educational gaps between CACREP’s Draft 2 - 2024 Standards and the 2022 CRC Domain Blueprint. Ninety-six percent (96%) of the new CRC domains remain consistent with the 2016 CRC Role & Function Study, which you have been previously provided.
Step 1: CRCC surveyed educators to identify how they are teaching to the 2016 Role & Function study vs. the CACREP Standards.

Many faculty shared concerns that CACREP standards have omitted disability concepts from rehabilitation counseling programs. They also reported that they are not integrating many of the CRC domains in their courses because they are following CACREP Standards

Quote from a former board member of CACREP

“Currently Rehabilitation Counseling degree programs are accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) after the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) merged with CACREP in 2017. At that time, all CORE accredited programs and standards were “ported over” and accredited by CACREP. Presently there are two types of specialty accreditation available to rehabilitation counseling and students and programs that emphasize differing emphases, scopes of practice and strengths of the field; Rehabilitation Counseling (emphasizing the historically traditional vocational and rehabilitation counseling practices; and Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling (emphasizing the working with persons with primary or co-occurring mental health disabilities and mental health interventions relevant to them).”

This statement represents what is happening to the rehabilitation programs and how CACREP standards continue to dilute the focus of rehabilitation and disability counseling programs.

Step 2: CRCC analyzed data of eleven (11) CRC exams over four (4) years to determine trends, specifically where students pass rates declined. The data below represents where rehabilitation educational programs report shifting their course work to align with the CACREP standards causing very low pass rates in the domains noted below.

We recommend: CACREP include in their standard that rehabilitation programs must cover key standards/domains specific to disability.

- Exam trends:
  - Each exam covers 12 domains and has two sections - Counseling and Rehabilitation & Disability.

COUNSELING SECTION OF THE CRC EXAM:

- Counseling Theories & Techniques, and Evidence-Based Practice
- Crisis and Trauma Counseling and Interventions
- Assessment/Evaluation, Occupational Analysis and Service Implementation
- Case Management

REHABILITATION & DISABILITY SECTION OF THE CRC EXAM:

- Professional Orientation and Ethical Practice
- Medical and Psychosocial Aspects of Chronic Illness and Disability
- Assessment/Evaluation, Occupational Analysis and Service Implementation
- Career Development and Job Placement
Step 3: During the past two months CRCC and several subject matter experts (SMEs) completed a cross walk of the current 2022 CRC Domain Blueprint and CACREP’s Draft 2 – 2024 Standards. The gaps we found are consistent with the failure rate of students noted above and areas that faculty are not covering based on CACREP’s standards.

After a thorough review, CRCC’s position remains the same. CACREP has modified the current standards and specialty areas and created one standard now called “Foundational Counseling Curriculum.” While many of the Foundational Counseling Curriculum Standards overlap different counseling professions, there are several that should remain specific to the counseling specialty, or at the very least repeat in the specialty area with defined content curriculum. Below we have highlighted those areas along with areas left out of the standards which are specific to Rehabilitation Counseling.

Below is the CRCC 2022 Domain Blueprint.

CRCC is requesting the highlighted domains areas to be added to the Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling & Rehabilitation Counseling Program specialty standards. The domain’s below are not to be incorporated under the Foundational Counseling Standards as these are specific to CRCC’s JTA and reflect the work of the rehabilitation counselor.

Additionally, CRCC is recommending the following changes:

THE LEARNING ENVIRONMENT: FACULTY AND STAFF (pp. 4-5)

Recommendations:

Under Faculty & Staff - Z “...Core counselor education faculty must meet one of the following

Delete the following language:

1) have earned doctoral degrees in counselor education, preferably from a CACREP accredited program, or
2) have related doctoral degrees and have been employed as full-time faculty members in a counselor education program for a minimum of one full academic year before July 1, 2013, or
3) have (a) been employed as a full-time faculty member in a CORE-accredited master’s program prior to July 1, 2017, or (b) graduated from a rehabilitation doctoral program prior to January 1, 2018.”

Replace the standards language above with inclusive language emphasizing knowledge, skill, and experience vs. the type of program they graduated from: “Core counselor education faculty must have the necessary knowledge, skills, and experience needed to teach in a Counselor Education program. Faculty teaching Clinical Rehabilitation or Rehabilitation Counseling Programs must hold the Certified Rehabilitation Counselor (CRC) credential. Faculty holding the CRC demonstrate both a minimum level of competence in working with people with a disability and have a rehabilitation counseling identity.

In Addition:

1. Allow graduates of non-CACREP programs to petition to become core faculty members. Establish criteria or a pathway for prospective faculty to demonstrate through master's level counselor education, professional activities, scholarship, and/or credentials (such as a certification as a CRC) that they have a rehabilitation counseling professional identity.

FOUNDATIONAL COUNSELING CURRICULUM (pp. 12-17)

Recommendation:

Change the third sentence in the first paragraph of the FOUNDATIONAL COUNSELING CURRICULUM section on page 12 to read “Ethical behavior, diversity, disability inclusion, and critical thinking are integral to counselor preparation and should be infused throughout the curriculum.”

Disability inclusion is a concept that should be clearly infused throughout the eight core curriculum areas. Currently in Draft 2 there is only one mention of disability in the eight core curriculum areas in the Lifespan Development section l. “models of psychosocial adjustment to illness and disability” on page 14.

ENTRY LEVEL SPECIALIZED PRACTICE AREAS. (p.22)

As the standards continue to evolve and develop, we are recommending CACREP extend the 2023 sunset clause until 2025. This provides for an extended pathway for the current dual programs [Clinical Mental Health/Clinical Rehabilitation] who must decide by 2023 which program they will retain. This extension enables the programs to evaluate the new standards.

GLOSSARY TO ACCOMPANY THE 2024 CACREP STANDARDS DRAFT 2 (pp. 36-42)
We commend the standards revision committee on including disability related concepts in the glossary. There are definitions of disability and related concepts in the glossary including 1) disability (as defined by The World Health Organization), 2) accessibility, 3) accommodation, 4) employment models, 5) inclusive learning environment, 6) legal rights (of individuals with disabilities), and 7) universal design. It should be noted that the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) listed in the definition of “legal rights” is available to all individuals regardless of disability status. Eligibility guidelines for FMLA are on the Department of Labor website at https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/fmla

Recommendation:
Change the glossary term “legal rights (of individuals with disabilities)” to “legal rights” because the policies listed are applicable to all individuals served by counselors, not only individuals with disabilities.

Finally, CRCC is recommending that CACREP incorporate the following or similar language in their standards Entry Level Specialized areas – Rehabilitation Counseling (p.27):

Recommendation: To encompass the breadth and scope of Entry Level (MINIMAL COMPETENCIES) for graduates Clinical Rehabilitation & Rehabilitation Counseling programs, CACREP strongly supports the research of CRCC’s Job Task Analysis a/k/a Role & Function studies, and therefore, recommends all Rehabilitation Counseling programs incorporate the CRCC 2022 JTA Domain Blueprint into your curriculum.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit our comments.
