NACCC COLLEGE ASSISTANCE FUND

Olivet College, Piedmont College, and the National Association of Congregational Churches (NACCC) have partnered together to create the NACCC College Assistance Fund. This fund encourages individuals, NACCC churches, and others to support students' engagement in important high impact programs and to meet students' other more immediate needs.

Some college students may find themselves unable to engage in high impact experiences, such as: service projects, study abroad, research internships, and other important educational experiences due to financial hardship. And, sometimes, students lack finances to meet their daily ongoing expenses, such as: books, food, or housing. The NACCC College Assistance Fund has been created to provide funding to those students in need.
