Happy Thanksgiving!

Michael Chittum, Executive Director

Thanksgiving Day, as an established holiday, comes but once a year. Giving thanks, as a way of life, however, should be observed and practiced by all people of faith every day of the year. As a way to remind us of this and as a worship aid that can be used in special holiday services in our churches, Shawn Stapleton has written a Thanksgiving Proclamation for 2020. We hope this proclamation will be used by our member churches and will be useful for their church members as a reminder to us all to be thankful.

A Christian Ministry in the National Parks

Julie Robie, Missions Administrator

One of the newest missions to the NACCC is a Christian Ministry in the National Parks (ACMP). If you are interested in helping young people explore what God is calling them to do, this may be a perfect place for them to start. It is a student-led ministry which began in 1951 with the dream of providing Christian community for the people working in, living in, and visiting the national parks. At the moment, ACMP is recruiting young people for seasonal work, hoping that they "Say "YES" to the call!" For more information go to their website or their Facebook page. Their recruiting brochure has been posted on their NACCC website profile.

Nominations Welcome!

Justin Nierer, Vitality Ministry Council

The Butman awards are considered the Oscars of the NACCC. These awards, established by Harry and Jeanette Butman through a generous endowment gift carrying their names, recognizes ministers and spouses. They are presented each year to praiseworthy recipients at the NACCC Annual Meeting & Conference.

The Butmans were strong advocates of true congregationalism and believed in encouraging ministers and their spouses in their work on behalf of the church. These awards are given to those who have devoted their lives to the NACCC and to the tradition that is the Congregational Way. A way of Freedom, Faith, and Fellowship. The NACCC Vitality Council reviews the nominations under the lens of not just true congregationalism but also one of the spirit of the Butmans which is a focus on Christ above all, that there is one King and He is Christ. Consider nominating your pastor or their spouse for this prestigious award! Click here to find out more.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

On October 3, 1789, President George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving Proclamation, saying “. . . it is the duty of all Nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to implore his protection and favor.” While that statement is perpetually true, it seems more true than ever in 2020.

It was 400 years ago this month – several generations before General Washington’s declaration of a national Day of Thanksgiving – that our spiritual and ecclesiastical foreparents stepped off the Mayflower on to the shores of Cape Cod after 66 harrowing days at sea. Conditions were challenging, to say the least, and they lost many of the family and friends with whom they left the shores of Europe. With the help of the indigenous Wampanoag people – a people with whom they might have had immediate conflict – the Pilgrims were able to eventually plant and harvest sustainable crops, and withstand the harsh climate of the New England shores.

Today, we are not unlike those Pilgrims –
we have settled in uncharted territory;
we have lost many family and friends;
we need to band together to get through these challenges.

With those things in mind, let us give thanks:
for every breath, which is a gift from God;
for every moment together, knowing the next is not assured;
for every provision God supplies, no matter how meager;
for every member of our support system, without which we could not survive.

May God grant us all the courage, grace, strength, faith, and tenacity to forge ahead as we face whatever challenges might lay before us. With Jesus as our Lord and the Holy Spirit as our guide, we can march with confidence into 2021. May the blessings of God be with all of you this holiday season!

-Rev. Dr. Shawn Stapleton

Excellence in Ministry Awards

Nomination Form

Help us celebrate excellence in ministry. The NACCC wishes to recognize leaders and/or innovators who have made significant contributions to Congregationalism. The Nominees should exemplify personal commitment to the principles of Congregationalism of faith, freedom and fellowship.

Nominations may be made by churches or individuals. Supporting documentation may also be submitted to assist the VMC in their selection process. This may include letters of support and/or articles about the nominee.

These yearly awards will be given at the discretion of the Vitality Ministry Council (VMC). Submitted materials will be kept confidential and become the property of the NACCC.

DEADLINE FOR NOMINEE CONSIDERATION IS APRIL 30.

For consideration, return this nomination form and any supporting documents to:
