

Trails Through Time

Wingohocking Creek Bus Tour

Philadelphia was once laced with a complex system of streams and tributaries. Now, many of these streams are hidden underground.

Join Philadelphia Water's Drew Brown & Adam Levine on a guided bus tour tracing the historic & now hidden Wingohocking Creek!

*The Wingohocking Creek used to provide power for many factories and now flows underground beneath parts of Mt. Airy, Germantown, Olney, Feltonville, and Juniata.
Points of interest along the way will include Awbury Arboretum and Belfield, home of Charles Wilson Peale.*

Saturday
November 18
12 PM - 5 PM

Meet: Tacony Creek Park
I St & Ramona Ave
Philadelphia 19124

Registration: $20, includes lunch
Contact Robin@ttfwatershed.org

Tour begins and ends at Tacony Creek Park I & Ramona Gateway

Space is limited, so register soon

Lunch is provided

Tour includes several stops where we'll get off the bus & explore-- wear comfortable walking shoes

