NDRC19 Early Registration Now Open

Register now to take advantage of early bird savings for the 2019 National Disaster Resilience Conference (NDRC19) November 19-22, in Clearwater Beach, FL, before they expire.

The NDRC is the premier leadership conference that brings together the nation's foremost voices in the disaster safety and resilience movement, drawing a diverse crowd of experts and organizations across all sectors. Attendees will enjoy keynote presentations, discussion panels, and spotlight topics that focus on the latest in science, policy, and practice to create more resilient buildings and disaster-resilient communities.

Why should you attend? Hear what past attendees have to say:

We leave here knowing who the force multipliers are. Who the people are that can amplify these messages and truly have the greatest impact. – Roy Wright, President & Chief Executive - IBHS

It's conferences like this, where you get everyone together to talk about a truly holistic approach to resilience. – Arthur Parks, P&C Underwriting Director - State Farm

Bringing together all of the resilience minded people will do leaps and bounds to help move the industry in the right direction. – Erika Peterman, VP Performance Materials Construction - BASF

If you look at the movement from 1998 to today, people are so much more well informed. I have no doubt the messages that FLASH and the partners here have delivered over those twenty years have saved lives. – Steven Cooper, Regional Director - National Weather Service

NDRC brings together a strong array of leaders, including our past presenters: Jim Cantore, On-Camera Meteorologist and "AMHQ" co-host - The Weather Channel; Ken Graham, Director - National Hurricane Center; Lt. General Russel L. Honoré; Daniel Kaniewski, Deputy Administrator for Resilience - FEMA; Dr. Rick Knabb, Hurricane Expert and Tropical Program Manager - The Weather Channel; Max Mayfield, Hurricane Specialist - WPLG-TV Miami and former Director - National Hurricane Center; Ada Monzon, Meteorologist - WIPR-TV; Bill Read, Meteorologist and former Director - National Hurricane Center; Lt.
