

To: Covenant Preschool Parents

Thank you for making the many adaptations required to provide for your children's education and nurture during this time of pandemic. Some have scrambled to find an alternative preschool option, others have engaged our preschool teachers to aid in care and academic growth, and still others have turned kitchen tables into classrooms. We know that closing the preschool did not make life easier for you and your family, and yet we remain steadfast in our commitment to prioritize the health of both the children and the staff.

Our commitment to providing a leading preschool remains unchanged. In just the past few months, we have re-aligned the Preschool's reporting structure, placing it back into our overall educational ministry, as it was for many years. We have also recruited a top-notch search committee to find our new Preschool Director. That search committee, along with the Covenant staff, will work closely with our new hire to assure a seamless re-start of the school. This committee will be led by Lecia Shockley, an experienced teacher and long-time Covenant member. The rest of her committee will consist of Amy Capitano, Luke Askins, and Lauren Scarboro.

Additionally, the Re-Opening Task Force and Personnel Committees are committed to opening Covenant's Preschool for the 2021-22 school year. Please know we feel a sense of urgency to move forward efficiently to ensure we are in the best possible position to recruit families back to our preschool with timing consistent to years past.

Let me close by saying we have been grateful for your continued support. Thank you also for your feedback and engagement.

Kind Regards,

Katie Stewart
