Personal Assistance

MOPD provides personal assistance for people with disabilities. Personal Assistants can provide up to six hours of help per week, and can help you prepare food, go food shopping, and help with housekeeping tasks like laundry, washing dishes and mopping. We also serve people who did not get in-home services from DHS/DRS.

Assistive Technology and Tools

Free tools include adaptive software, voice recognition software, visual flashing fire alarms and door alerts, shower transfer benches, walkers, and wheelchair accessories. Amplified and captioned telephones are available as well.

Home Delivered Meals

We can help you get access to meals. You can have meals dropped off at your home. You may be interested in signing up if you have a hard time leaving your home or a hard time making meals at home, or may not have help shopping for food.

Make Your Home More Accessible

Our Home Modification Program can help make your home more accessible. This program is available to City of Chicago residents with disabilities of all ages that also have a low to moderate income. We provide services for those who live in all kinds of homes including single family houses, condo units, and apartments. Areas of modifications under this program include but are not limited to: ramps and lifts, kitchen and bathroom modifications and the widening of doorways.

Career Center

The MOPD Career Center works with job seekers with disabilities to provide career readiness activities including preparing a resume, practice interviews, and help with filling out applications. The Career Center also provides guidance to businesses that want to provide more inclusive hiring practices and build a more inclusive work culture within their organization. Benefits counseling is available to help individuals make a successful transition to work and greater financial independence.
