

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

SEPTEMBER 2021

Joshua Martin Building Technology Instructor Pearl River High School

Joshua Martin grew up in Washington Parish. He graduated from Pine High School, then earned his degree in Construction Management from Ashworth College. He applied for the Building Technology Instructor position at Pearl River High School 5 years ago at the encouragement of Alan Dykes, who previously served in that role.

Joshua teaches Pre-Apprenticeship I & II, and most of his students are juniors and seniors. All of the students are dually enrolled at NTCC. He also works with the students on communication, employability skills, and construction math.

Joshua has been married for 15 years to Heather Martin, assistant principal at Franklinton Primary School. They have 3 children – a daughter who is a senior in high school, a son who is in 8th grade, and a son in 2nd grade. All of the children play sports, and the Martins enjoy spending time at their volleyball, basketball, and football games. In his free time, Joshua also enjoys working with his dad, who owns a siding business.

"I enjoy introducing the students to the possibilities of careers in trades... the possibility of making a good living working with their hands."

Joshua Martin

Picnic Tables built by PRHS Students

The Faculty Spotlight is a monthly newsletter that highlights the achievements of NTCC faculty. The nominee can be an online or face-to-face instructor that their peers think best represents the college in academics and through their efforts off campus.

Forward nominations to amandajacob@northshorecollege.edu