Batesville Tool and Die, Inc. Wins 2026 Rosie Award for Building One of America's Top-Performing Health Plans

The Health Rosetta ecosystem covers more than 10,000 employer and public-sector health plans. This year, over 2,000 were evaluated, with a select few being honored as 2026 Rosie Award winners.

This award recognizes excellence in results and in strengthening and extending healthcare's transformation. Winners earn it across three dimensions: a top score on the independent Plan Grader™, documented savings reinvested into their employees and community through the Health Rosetta Dividend, and a willingness to share what works so other employers can follow. Most organizations never pull off one; these plans accomplished all three.

NASHVILLE, TN — July 30, 2026 — Batesville Tool and Die, Inc. has been named a 2026 Rosie Award winner by Health Rosetta, earning national recognition for delivering a health plan that outperforms the market on cost, quality, and employee experience. The award was presented July 30 at the Gaylord Opryland Resort during RosettaFest 2026, Health Rosetta's annual gathering of the employers, advisors, and clinicians rebuilding American healthcare.

Batesville Tool and Die, Inc. rose to the top of an exceptionally competitive field. From more than 10,000 employers in the Health Rosetta ecosystem, over 2,000 plans were evaluated, 182 advanced as finalists, and 88 were ultimately named Rosie Award winners.

How winners are chosen

Rosie Award winners are selected on hard evidence. Three measures drive the decision: their Plan Grader™ score, which is Health Rosetta's proprietary benchmark of health plan performance; how strategically they have reinvested their Health Rosetta Dividend, the savings generated by better plan design, back into their workforce and community; and their willingness to share what they have learned so other employers can follow.

Real results, reinvested with purpose, shared generously.

What this means for Batesville Tool and Die, Inc.'s people

For employees and their families, this recognition shows up as easier-to-access care, dollars that go further, and a benefits package built around their lives. In a talent market where people have choices, that kind of plan helps Batesville Tool and Die, Inc. attract the workforce we want and keep the people we already trust.

Batesville Tool and Die, Inc.: "This recognition belongs to our entire team and the community we serve. We believe great healthcare is part of what we owe the people who show up every day, and we are proud of the results our plan is producing for them. Being part of a growing movement of employers proving what is possible means a great deal to us." - Sonja White, Human Resources Director, Batesville Tool & Die, Inc.

A partnership built on trust

Batesville Tool and Die, Inc.'s plan was designed and stewarded in close partnership with Health Rosetta Advisor Diana Miller of Conner Insurance.

Diana Miller: "It is a privilege to work alongside Batesville Tool and Die, Inc. Their commitment to transparency, member experience, and exceptional care has produced one of the strongest health plans in the country. We are proud to celebrate their leadership and the real impact they are creating for their employees and the community they serve."

About the Rosie Awards

Recognizing the employers raising the standard of American healthcare. The Rosie Awards, presented by Health Rosetta, honor employers and public sector leaders who have built health benefits into a genuine force for good for their people, their bottom line, and their communities. Winners represent what becomes possible when committed leadership, the right tools, and high expectations come together.

The Rosie Awards run through all three days of RosettaFest, July 29-31, at Gaylord Opryland in Nashville, and build to the Rosie Awards party at Foundry Fieldhouse with live music from the Mobile Home Boys.

About RosettaFest RosettaFest is the national gathering of the employers, advisors, clinicians, and innovators rebuilding American healthcare from the ground up. Each year, leaders from across the country come together to share replicable models that deliver better care at lower cost while strengthening local communities.

About Health Rosetta

Health Rosetta exists to restore hope and health to American communities. By equipping forward-thinking employers, advisors, and public sector leaders with proven tools and a trusted peer network, Health Rosetta helps scale solutions that improve lives and redirect healthcare dollars toward the people and places that need them most.
