What graduates say about the program:

"The presentations and discussions were great. We talked about real time situations and problems that are being dealt with today."

"It's impressive to meet and hear the material from the people who actually run the show."

"I plan to ensure folks understand how critical water conservation and education are."

"I will share the importance of water supply diversification with friends and family."

"I learned about critical water infrastructure and have great faith we are going in the right direction."

Nominations Due: February 5
Applications Due: February 12
