Hope Sings, So Beautiful award-winning author Christopher Pramuk offers a mosaic of images and sketches for thinking and praying through difficult questions about race. He offers the perspectives of artists, poets, and theologians from many different ethnic and racial communities.

Pramuk is not just sociological or ethnographic in his approach. Rather, he is shaped by the horizon and questions of theology, spirituality, and pastoral practice. Pramuk's challenging work on this difficult topic will stimulate fruitful conversations and fresh thinking, whether in private study or prayer; in classrooms, churches, and reading groups; or among friends and family around the dinner table.

Saturday Sessions will deal with other themes from the book.
