CNAM 2022 Conference - Call for Presentations

Conference Information

The Canadian Network of Asset Managers (CNAM) is hosting its Annual Conference from May 2-5, 2022. CNAM's membership consists of international public sector staff, consultants, contractors and software companies who understand that asset management is vital to reliable and efficient infrastructure service delivery!

The upcoming CNAM's 2022 Conference theme is

CONNECTIONS
Building an Asset Management Community

This is CNAM's Call for your presentations, case studies, and workshops that showcase how asset management has enabled delivery of the infrastructure services that all in the industry can enjoy!

Presentation
May 2-5, 2022
Hybrid

The Canadian Network of Asset Managers (CNAM) is holding its first Hybrid Annual Conference on May 2 to 5, 2022 in London, Ontario at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel. The past two years have been challenging in many regards with the onset of COVID-19 and a world pandemic. Many municipalities across the country, and the world over, are struggling to do more with less in terms of Asset Management (AM).

The theme for 2022 is:

CONNECTIONS: Building an Asset Management Community

When submitting your presentation abstract or workshop, you will be required to identify which topic area(s) your presentation best fits. We will be building our streams around the responses we receive.

As always we are looking for a breadth of content to provide all Conference attendees with value. We welcome presentations for organizations new to AM who have successfully taken their first steps and wish to share their experiences, all the way through to organizations who are pushing the boundaries and shaping the future of AM. This includes small organizations and large organizations!

Asset owning organizations will be given priority including communities across Canada, First Nations, provincial bodies, and global organizations. Consultants and vendors are welcome to apply but it is expected their presentations be joint with one of their clients.

The online submission process requires you to provide the following:

- Session Title
- Session Description (150 words max)
- Speaker Biographies (100 words max)
- Learning Objectives

Workshop Guidelines

The Conference Committee is actively seeking proposals for workshops for the 2022 Conference. These should be interactive sessions to engage CNAM members in hands-on exercises that can accommodate 50-80 people each.

We encourage speakers to present in-person, however, you will have the choice to select whether you are more comfortable presenting virtually or in-person.

Submission deadline for presentations and workshops is Friday, January 28, 2022 at 5:00pm EST

Please note: Submissions that are not fully completed will be rejected

All those who submit, will receive an update on their acceptance status in March 2022.
