

It is with both appreciation and a touch of sadness that we announce the retirement of Pedro Falcon, who has been a valued member of our University family for 21 years. Pedro's journey with us began in a temporary position in Parking and Transportation, but his dedication and expertise quickly led him to new opportunities. From there, he moved into Surplus, managing the warehouse, before joining Campus Recreation, where he made an indelible mark on our department's growth and success.

During his time in Campus Recreation, Pedro witnessed the department's beginnings in the Arena and played a key role as we transitioned to the state-of-the-art Wellness and Recreation Center. His knowledge of building functions and equipment was essential in keeping the facility running smoothly, and his problem-solving mindset has resulted in countless solutions that improved our operations. Pedro's work ethic, reliability, and ability to get the job done will be deeply missed by all of us. His ability to troubleshoot, streamline processes, and find practical solutions to complex challenges made him a true asset to the team.

Pedro's contributions extended beyond his technical expertise. He built strong relationships with colleagues across the University, and those connections will remain one of his lasting legacies here. These valued relationships are ones he hopes to continue nurturing after retirement.

While Pedro will be missed professionally, we are thrilled for him as he looks forward to this next chapter in his life. In retirement, he plans to spend quality time with his grandkids, taking them to baseball games, working on his home, and enjoying more time with his wife. We also want to extend our gratitude to Pedro's family for sharing him with us for all these years. We are excited for him to focus on his family and personal pursuits in this well-earned next phase.

Pedro, congratulations on your retirement, and thank you for everything you've done for Campus Recreation and the University. You've truly made a difference, and we wish you all the best as you enjoy this new chapter of life!
