REALIZING THE DREAM OF ENTREPRENEURIAL SUCCESS

6. Do you have a mentor?

Mentorship is essential. Seventy percent of business owners with mentors have businesses that are open after five years, double the survival rate of non-mentored small businesses, according to a UPS company survey. A mentor can look at your new business with a critical eye and keep you from getting too far off track, while understanding the demands of business ownership.

7. Can you live with failure?

That may not be what you want to hear when you are setting your sights on success, but even the most successful entrepreneurs meet failure at some time or another. Jack Ma, founder of the world's largest online commerce center, Alibaba, said he would not be as successful if he had not experienced failure.

Finally, be ready to roll up your sleeves and work hard, say the experts, including billionaire entrepreneur and "shark" Mark Cuban. As he explained in a Business Insider interview, his advice to any entrepreneur is simple: "Do the work. Out-think. Out-sell your expectations. There are no shortcuts."
