EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

-Can you share a brief description of your role and responsibilities?

As a Project Manager in credits and reimbursements, my role is to assist clients with navigating through the credit or reimbursement process that comes with a publicly financed project. I like to get involved in the very beginning of the project to help strategize and plan the best course of action to easily and efficiently flush out all available proceeds for the developer.

-What do you find most rewarding about working in the Credits & Reimbursements Division at Murow DC?

The most rewarding part of working in this division is cultivating relationships with the agencies and clients. The agencies we work with know Murow's reputation for submitting organized and high-quality reimbursement packages. -What is your most memorable experience at Murow DC?

After being at Murow for several years now, there are so many good memories to choose from. But I think our holiday parties are some of my favorite memories. It's just nice to come together at the end of the year to celebrate all the company's and employees' hard work and successes from the year.

-What are the biggest challenges in the industry today where your expertise in cost estimating can help navigate?

One of the challenges in the industry that would directly affect the reimbursement team would be rising interest rates. As interest rates goes up, the funds available for our clients to receive goes down. Our team caters our packages based on the requirements of the reviewing agency. Because this is the case, we are able to assist with the close out process in the field to make sure the reviewing agency gets exactly what they need to review and approve reimbursement requests as quickly as possible.

-Do you have any hobbies or interests?

I started playing golf again this year! Golf seems to be the thing to do in this industry with all the events and tournaments that happen throughout each year. I used to play golf with my dad when I was younger and decided now would be a good time to pick it back up. I also really enjoy live music so I try to go to concerts and shows whenever I can.
