

School of Sport, Tourism and Hospitality Management

Tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor (two positions available)

The School of Sport, Tourism and Hospitality Management is soliciting applicants for 2 tenure-track faculty positions at the Assistant/Associate Professor level. These positions will be housed in the school's Department of Sport and Recreation Management. Preferred applicants will have a strong record of publishing in high quality sport management journals as well as mainstream business outlets, or show potential to do so. The ideal candidates will have experience, or ability, to teach courses in at least two of the following areas at the undergraduate and graduate levels: finance, economics, management, strategy, and research methods at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Specific experience and/or a willingness to develop and deliver online courses is also desirable. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. A terminal degree in a relevant field is required. Teaching evaluations, where available, should also be included with application.

Both appointments are scheduled to begin in the fall semester of 2017. Review of applications to begin immediately and positions will remain open until filled.

Temple University is a large urban university located approximately 2 miles north of Center City Philadelphia. The city's extensive tourism, hospitality, sport, and recreation venues make the University's location ideal for teaching and learning experiences in these industries. The Department of Sport and Recreation Management currently offers two degree programs: Bachelor's (BS) in Sport and Recreation Management and a Master's degree (MS) in Sport Business; a fully-online Executive M.S. in Sport Business is expected to launch in 2017. The School (STHM) is a self-standing school, affiliated with Temple University's Fox School of Business and Management, where a Ph.D. in Business Administration with a Tourism/Sport concentration is offered.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of at least three references, teaching evaluations, and other relevant supporting materials to Dr. Joe Mahan, Chair, Department of Sport & Recreation Management (joe.mahan@temple.edu), or at the following address: School of Sport, Tourism and Hospitality Management, 1810 North 13th Street, 111 Speakman Hall (006-68), Temple University, Philadelphia, PA 19122.

For sustainability purposes, electronic applications are strongly encouraged.

Temple University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer.
Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.