

Baystate Pediatrician Promoted to Associate Professor

The Departments of Pediatrics and Medicine at UMass Chan Medical School-Baystate are delighted to announce that Sharon Wretzel, MD has been promoted to Associate Professor of Medicine and Pediatrics, UMass Chan Medical School-Baystate. Dr. Wretzel received her medical degree from the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland. She completed her internship and residency in Medicine-Pediatrics at Baystate and joined the faculty after training. Dr. Wretzel is board certified in Internal Medicine and Pediatrics. She was appointed Internal Medicine-Pediatrics Assistant Program Director in 2013, Associate Program Director in 2016 and promoted to Program Director in 2017. She has established an impressive record of leadership in medical education and has received several awards for teaching. Dr. Wretzel serves as the secretary-treasurer of the Medicine-Pediatrics Program Directors Association. She is a primary care physician at Mason Square Health Center and an exemplary med-peds primary care role model.

Congratulations Dr. Wretzel!
