

UC DAVIS SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL MEDICINE
ENDOCRINOLOGY DIVISION CHIEF LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITY
PROTECTED TIME FOR LEADERSHIP/ADMINISTRATIVE EFFORTS AS WELL AS SCHOLARSHIP AND RESEARCH INTERESTS

The Department of Internal Medicine at UC Davis School of Medicine is seeking an exceptional clinician scientist with prior leadership experience to join the expanding Division of Endocrinology. The incoming leader will serve as its Division Chief of Endocrinology. The ideal candidate is board certified in Internal Medicine and Endocrinology and qualifies for Associate or Full Professor Academic rank in the In-Residence and Ladder Rank/Tenured Series at UC Davis School of Medicine.

The incoming Division leader will be a clinician and scientist with a record of outstanding achievement in relevant research in endocrinology as evidenced by publications and extramural funding, and strong leadership experience. The ability to adhere to policies and procedures are required, as is the ability to work cooperatively and collegially in a diverse environment. The candidate must have the ability to oversee the Divisional educational programs, clinics, and affiliated VA programs.

UC Davis Health is an academic medical center that includes a medical group, a top-ranked school of medicine, a top ranked School of Nursing, a 619-bed acute care hospital, a National Cancer Institute-designated comprehensive cancer center, the unique MIND Institute for the study of neurodevelopmental disorders, a comprehensive children's hospital, a level 1 trauma center, and outpatient clinics in communities throughout the Sacramento region. Consistently ranked among the nation's top medical schools and best hospitals, UC Davis has established itself as a national leader in telehealth, rural medicine, cancer, neurodevelopmental disorders, vascular medicine, and trauma and emergency medicine. UC Davis was recently ranked as the 5th best public university in the United States.

Position Highlights:

- Join a strong, reputable academic division actively engaged in all areas of research including basic, translational, clinical and population research
- Incoming leader will be experienced in program expansion and development and leverage the unique attributes in research and clinical care to expand services and expand the clinical and research components required for successful growth
- Oversee Divisional educational programs, clinics, and affiliated VA programs
- Participation in teaching and scholarly activities, providing leadership and mentorship to students, residents, fellows and junior faculty
- Lead the expansion of research within the Division providing mentorship to current faculty as well as participating in scholarship/research efforts based on your area of strength
- Competitive start up package customized to specific experience, interest, and expertise

Community:

UC Davis is located in one of the most historic locations in California less than two hours from Napa, Lake Tahoe, and San Francisco. The city features an astounding array of landmarks, parks, amenities, and additional remarkable attractions. The city also offers a host of special events and programs designed to celebrate the region's people, heritage, and community, and has endless opportunities to experience adventure in scenic nature and consistent sunshine.

To advance your confidential interest, please forward your curriculum vitae to: Ashlie.Korb@merrithawkins.com
Inquiries can be directed to Ashlie Korb, Senior Managing Consultant of Academic Recruiting at Merritt Hawkins at (800) 876-0500.

The University of California, Davis is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty, staff and students.