

Title: Chief, Division of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology and Pediatric Oncology Center
Director of the MGB Cancer Institute
Department: Pediatrics
Institute: Mass General for Children

Mass General for Children (MGfC) is recruiting a dynamic leader with a strong reputation as a clinician and academic to serve as Chief of the Division of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology. The position includes an appointment at Harvard Medical School commensurate with the applicant's level of experience and is open to applicants at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor.

The Division Chief will provide visionary leadership, strategic direction, and operational oversight for the division and will lead the Pediatric Oncology Center within the MGB Cancer Institute. This individual will be responsible for overseeing and enhancing the division's academic and clinical programs while fostering a collaborative environment that promotes excellence in scholarship. The Division Chief will also play a critical role in mentoring faculty and trainees, leading divisional growth, and ensuring that the division's mission aligns with the overall goals of the department and institution.

The Division of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology is internationally known for providing state-of-the-art comprehensive, personalized care for children of all ages with malignancies and disorders of the blood. The division sits within both the Massachusetts General Hospital and Brigham and Women's Hospital Department of Pediatrics and as a Center within the newly developing MGB Cancer Institute.

The candidate must be board certified or board eligible in Pediatric Hematology/Oncology.

Questions may be sent to Allan Goldstein, MD, Chief of Pediatric Surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital at amgoldstein@mgb.org.

Interested applicants should send a letter of interest and their curriculum vitae to Yolanda Gonzalez at ygonzalez8@mgc.harvard.edu.
