

Chief Executive Officer
Temple Faculty Physicians, Philadelphia, PA

Note that ELUM Joyce De Leo, PhD is a Principal in Academic Medicine and Health Sciences at WittKieffer

Philadelphia, PA – Temple Health seeks an experienced, action-oriented, and strategic medical group executive to serve as Chief Executive Officer for the newly formed Temple Faculty Physicians. The CEO will have a unique opportunity to lead this 550-physician, employed faculty medical group through its evolution into an integrated, efficient, highly profitable, and patient-centered multispecialty group practice. After a successful 2020 financial year, there has never been a better time to lead at Temple Health. The health system has achieved a financial turn-around, is positioned for growth, and benefits from its close partnership with the internationally recognized faculty at Lewis Katz School of Medicine at Temple University.

Temple Health is a major Philadelphia-based academic health system driving medical advances through clinical innovation, pioneering research, and world-class education. The health system's 1,000 physicians and scientists share a common mission of bringing tomorrow's treatments to the bedside today, helping them achieve outcomes once thought impossible. Temple Health consists of the 732-bed Temple University Hospital (TUH), the NCI-designated Fox Chase Cancer Center; Temple University Hospital – Jeanes Campus, Northeastern Campus, and Episcopal Campus; Temple Faculty Physicians; Temple Physicians, Inc., and Temple Transport Team. The dedicated providers at Temple Health have been at the forefront of innovating care and research for treating COVID-19.

Reporting directly to the CEO of Temple University Health System and the Chair of the Board of Directors for Temple Faculty Physicians, the CEO will have accountability for the strategy, growth, financial, and care quality performance for the medical group. The CEO will work closely with clinical department chairs and clinical service leaders to build programs of excellence, and ensure the success across 27 current, and all future, practice sites.

The successful candidate will have a minimum of 5 to 10 years of leadership experience in a large multi-specialty medical group setting, as part of a academic health system or equally complex integrated and matrixed organization. Candidates should possess outstanding communication skills, fiscal acumen, and data driven while valuing the mission of providing care for the urban underserved while advancing education and research. The CEO will be a physician executive, or a non-physician leader with extensive medical group practice leadership experience while holding a relevant master's degree. Under-represented minority and female executives are encouraged to apply. Please direct all confidential nominations and resumes to Rachel Polhemus, Jeff Schroetlin, and Vinny Gossain preferably via email to vgossain@wittkieffer.com.
