

Director, Division of Neonatology Atrium Health Levine Children's

Merritt Hawkins has partnered with Atrium Health Levine Children's to recruit a new Director to oversee the Division of Neonatology. The ideal candidate is an experienced leader who possesses the desire and expertise necessary to step in and build a national neonatology program while leading a group of 23 established neonatologists who provide care at five metro area NICUs. This is a wonderful opportunity for the incoming candidate to expand his or her geographic and pediatric footprint in a strategy and operational leadership role while further developing a highly reputable program.

Atrium Health Levine Children's Hospital (LCH), the flagship children's hospital for the healthcare system, is currently the largest children's hospital between Atlanta and Washington, D.C., with more than 125 pediatric subspecialists in more than 25 different pediatric specialties. It offers an excellent environment for clinical research and quality improvement work and has been repeatedly ranked among the best children's hospitals in the nation by U.S. News & World Report, most recently in seven pediatric specialties for 2019–2020, including neonatology.

As the Level IV referral center for the entire region, LCH provides all subspecialty newborn care, including ECMO, hypothermia Rx for HIE, and cardiac surgery. The hospital has a well-regarded pediatric residency with 36 residents who rotate through the NICU.

U.S. News* ranks North Carolina #4 in Best States for Fiscal Stability and #14 in Best States for Economy
