

Chair, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology and Executive Director, Women's Healthcare Service Line

Wake Forest Baptist Medical Center announces a national search for the Chair, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology and Executive Director, Women's Healthcare Service Line.

Wake Forest Baptist Medical Center (WFBMC) is a nationally recognized academic medical center with an integrated clinical enterprise serving 20 counties in northwest North Carolina and southwest Virginia. The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology provides obstetric services at the Forsyth Medical Center (part of Novant Health), which has roughly 6500 deliveries annually; Lexington Medical Center representing 1000 deliveries per year and Wilkes Medical Center, also representing 1000 deliveries per annum.

The next Chair will oversee an evolution of its women's healthcare enterprise which is well-poised to experience substantial growth throughout the region. S/he will serve as the Medical Director of the Women's Health service line, and continue the Department's excellence in its research and education missions. Qualified candidates will possess an MD (or equivalent) or MD/PhD; be board certified in Obstetrics and Gynecology, as well as have additional certifications from the American Board of Medical Specialties for applicable subspecialty training; be eligible for appointment as a full professor; and have a substantial record of leadership and achievement in academic medicine and medical education.
