

Final Advertisement

The College of Medicine at Texas A&M University is accepting applications for the position of Department Head in Military Medicine. The individual will also hold the faculty title of Clinical Professor.

Successful applicants will be expected to:

- build military medicine into the Texas A&M medical education curriculum;
- serve the military community while providing medical students with training experiences in military treatment facilities;
- train additional military physicians;
- provide physicians from our practice to augment Department of Defense health care providers in military facilities;
- partner with the Department of Defense and Veteran's Affairs for military medical research;
- and build a reputation of the Texas A&M College of Medicine as a military friendly institution.

Applicants must have earned a doctorate in Medicine and be able to obtain a Texas medical license. Service in the Department of Defense as a senior military officer in medical leadership is preferred.

To apply for this position, please send a cover letter, CV, and three reference letters to:

Dr. Regina Bentley
bentley@tamhsc.edu

This is a security sensitive position. The individual in this position is required to handle Protected Health Information (PHI) as defined by HIPAA regulations. The individual is required to handle PHI in accordance with Texas A&M System policy and is further required to complete HIPAA training as a condition of employment, within a reasonable timeframe after the individual's employment and on an "as-needed" basis thereafter.

Texas A&M is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.