

UNIVERSITY HOSPITALS/CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF PATHOLOGY
DIVISION CHIEF OF CLINICAL PATHOLOGY
LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

The Department of Pathology at University Hospitals Health System and Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine is seeking an accomplished and innovative Division Chief of Clinical Pathology. The ideal candidate is a physician who is board-certified in anatomic and clinical pathology or clinical pathology and has experience leading clinical and academic programs in Laboratory Medicine in an integrated academic health network. This position will have leadership responsibility for advancing the mission of University Hospitals, ‘To Heal, To Teach, To Discover’ by providing high quality, value-based clinical laboratory services, enhancing our educational programs, and developing clinical and translational research programs.

The Division includes comprehensive and state of the art diagnostic, teaching, and academic services in the sections of Clinical Chemistry/Immunology, Transfusion Medicine, Hematopathology, Microbiology, Histocompatibility and Immunogenetics, and Point of Care Testing. Across these specialties, the division performs over 35 million billable clinical laboratory tests annually in our highly automated core laboratories and advanced specialty sections. The Department supports training and education with a Pathology residency, five accredited fellowship programs, a PhD program and two MS programs, as well as teaching of medical students and clinical laboratory science students. The Department has strong research programs and is in the top 10 Pathology Departments in the U.S. for NIH funding.

The Department of Pathology provides diagnostic services at our enterprise community hospitals throughout Northeast Ohio, as well as the academic hub consisting of UH Cleveland Medical Center and Rainbow Babies and Children’s Hospital, adjacent to Case Western Reserve University in the University Circle neighborhood of Cleveland. The Department has strong collaborations with UH Seidman Cancer Center and the Case Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Among the nation’s leading academic medical centers, University Hospitals Cleveland Medical Center is an affiliate of Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine, a nationally recognized leader in medical research and education.

Academic rank and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Qualifications:

- Candidates must hold an MD, MD/PhD, or equivalent degree
- Candidates must be board-certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology or Clinical Pathology with five or more years of experience in clinical pathology practice including leadership roles

- Physician-scientist candidates with a record of independent externally funded research programs are encouraged to apply and will be provided with research laboratory space and startup funds.

Position Highlights:

- Division Chief leadership opportunity - Expand an established division
- Participate in systems improvement, standardization, and integration
- Pursue academic, research, and scholarly interests
- Incredible leadership role within a division that provides comprehensive laboratory services across the full spectrum of diagnostic specialties
- Centralized microbiology laboratory features total laboratory automation and advanced molecular microbiology
- Laboratory features a robust translational research program
- CWRU Department of Pathology is in the top 10 nationally in NIH funding
- Division laboratory sections are led by nationally prominent academic physicians, doctoral scientists, and researchers
- Intra-departmental collaboration with the Center for Global Health and Diseases
- Flexibility for research opportunities

Community:

Located along beautiful Lake Erie and filled with wonderful opportunities for families and individuals alike, Cleveland is a perfect place to call home.

- Lower cost of living than other major cities
- A variety of housing options, including urban residences, waterfront properties, and suburban neighborhoods
- An abundance of outdoor recreation, including hiking, lakefront activities, and golfing
- An array of amenities, including an international airport, top-notch shopping and dining
- options, professional sports teams, and world-class performing arts.

To advance your confidential interest, please forward your curriculum vitae to:

Ashlie.Korb@merritthawkins.com. Questions and inquiries can be directed to Ashlie Korb, Senior Managing Consultant of Academic Recruiting at Merritt Hawkins at (800) 876-0500.

UH and CWRU are committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.