

The University of Arizona's College of Medicine – Phoenix seeks to advance its academic profile through the recruitment of the Chair of the Department of Interdisciplinary Oncology.

The inaugural Chair will provide strategic leadership and direction for all aspects of the department working closely across the College, Cancer Center, and the clinical partner Dignity Health/ St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center. The Chair will be responsible for all planning, policy, operations and oversight of academic and research programs of the department. The Chair will have financial authority over the state-appropriated budget assigned to the department, extramural research funding received and funding generated through the Cancer Program Affiliation Agreement, in collaboration with Cancer Center leadership, and other financial matters for the department in accordance with applicable University and College policies and practices. The Chair will engage department division chiefs and will enhance the academic quality of fellowship, undergraduate and graduate medical education programs.

Duties & Responsibilities

Provide leadership and management of day-to-day operations of the Department of Interdisciplinary Oncology as well as:

- Faculty Affairs
- Educational and training programs
- Research programs
- Patient care programs
- Integrate basic and translational cancer research into the UACC operations in Phoenix.
- Finances and budget
- Diversity and inclusion

Minimum Qualifications

Qualified candidates must possess a doctoral degree (PhD, MD, or equivalent) from an accredited institution and be eligible for a University of Arizona academic appointment at the Associate or Full Professor level. A record of administrative experience in an academic medical center setting. A demonstrated ability to grow revenues, meet budgets, measure and improve productivity and outcomes, and undertake appropriate business strategies to achieve division, unit department and/or enterprise goals. Experience in the development and successful implementation of new academic programs and services, as well as program review and assessment.

For a full description and to apply, visit <http://uacareers.com/postings/35548>

At the University of Arizona, we value our inclusive climate because we know that diversity in experiences and perspectives is vital to advancing innovation, critical thinking, solving complex problems, and creating an inclusive academic community. We translate these values into action by seeking individuals who have experience and expertise working with diverse students, colleagues and constituencies. Because we seek a workforce with a wide range of perspectives and experiences, we encourage diverse candidates to apply, including people of color, women, veterans, and individuals with disabilities. As an Employer of National Service, we also welcome alumni of AmeriCorps, Peace Corps, and other national service programs and others who will help us advance our Inclusive Excellence initiative aimed at creating a university that values student, staff, and faculty engagement in addressing issues of diversity and inclusiveness.