

CHAIR, DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE
MAIMONIDES MEDICAL CENTER

Maimonides Medical Center (Maimonides), in partnership with Korn Ferry, announces a national search for the Chair, Department of Medicine.

Maimonides Medical Center (Maimonides), the premier academic community teaching hospital in the borough of Brooklyn and the largest medical center in New York's most populous borough, is poised to stand at the forefront of innovative medicine, in the nation's largest urban area. From the beginning, it represents an exemplary organization with a rich history of providing high-quality clinical care, education, and research that spans over 100 years. With 711 beds and more than 70 primary care and sub-specialty programs, Maimonides is among the largest independent teaching hospitals in the nation. As Maimonides' largest department, the Department of Medicine is central to Maimonides' strategy for establishing a vibrant population-based health enterprise while sustaining its extraordinary track record of excellence and innovation in medical care.

The Department has enjoyed eight years of successful leadership under Dr. Stephan (Steve) Kamholz, who has announced his intention to step down by the end of December, to continue on in an academic role. Maimonides is therefore embarking on a national search to identify a distinguished physician leader to serve as the next Chair, Department of Medicine (Chair of Medicine). In this highly visible role, the Chair of Medicine will arrive at a pivotal time in the history of Medicine at Maimonides, Brooklyn, and New York City.

The new Chair of Medicine will inherit a strong clinical enterprise and will have an opportunity to sustain an extraordinary legacy established by prior department chairs while bringing added distinction to Maimonides and its Department of Medicine through innovation. Reporting to the Chief Executive Officer and to the Executive Vice President for Medical Affairs, and working alongside 11 other Department Chairs, the Chair of Medicine will be viewed by all stakeholders as a strong advocate for balancing the academic, educational, and clinical missions of the Medical Center.

To provide the necessary leadership for Maimonides Medicine in this transformative period, the ideal candidate will demonstrate a record of scholarly activity with national recognition and leadership in academia as a physician leader and educator, and will have had operational and financial management experience in a hospital, academic health center, or group practice environment. The successful candidate will find an extraordinarily rich environment in which clinical excellence and collaboration are the hallmarks of this highly successful, nationally recognized and academically robust Department.
