

Chief Medical Officer, Smilow Cancer Hospital Associate and/or Professor

Smilow Cancer Hospital and Yale Cancer Center invite applications from board-certified cancer specialists to serve as the Chief Medical Officer. The incumbent should have a demonstrated academic record consistent with the level of Associate Professor or Professor at Yale School of Medicine. In addition to being active clinically, the Chief Medical Officer will have overarching responsibility for the clinical service and clinical strategic planning at Smilow Cancer Hospital and its network of 12 community based Care Centers across the region. The Chief Medical Officer will oversee cancer service line development across the health system, lead clinical activities at Yale Cancer Center, evaluate and optimize the multidisciplinary team structure, ensure infrastructure for clinical research activities, oversee all quality, value-based and patient safety initiatives, assist with facilities/space planning and interact and coordinate with Yale New Haven Hospital's clinical leadership structure. This position will shape the entire clinical enterprise and be charged with continuing an operation and culture that focuses on patient-centered care and enhancing a world class model for cancer care operationally and clinically. Yale values diversity in its faculty, students, and staff and strongly encourages applications from women, members of minority groups, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. All application materials, including CV and a letter describing qualifications, should be submitted electronically to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/51335>
