

Chief, Division of Pediatric Hematology and Oncology University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center (UT Southwestern)

The Department of Pediatrics at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center (UT Southwestern) is conducting a national search for the next Chief for the Division of Pediatric Hematology and Oncology. Reporting to the Chair of the Department of Pediatrics, the Chief of Pediatric Hematology and Oncology will be charged with delivering state-of-the-art clinical care to children with hematologic and oncologic disorders at Children's Medical Center of Dallas and Plano. The Chief will also be developing, scaling, and innovating the Division's research and education programs. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to envision and realize the future growth of an outstanding Pediatric Hematology and Oncology program, within the vibrant and growing UT Southwestern Medical Center and Children's Health, also routinely considered among the nation's finest.

The Department of Pediatrics at UT Southwestern has a long and rich history that is interwoven with the roots of UT Southwestern Medical School and with the development and growth of Children's Health, its primary clinical partner. The Department provides leading inpatient care at Children's Medical Center in Dallas and Plano and outpatient services throughout multispecialty centers in Dallas, Plano, Prosper and other health care units across the Dallas Metroplex. The Department is structured into 17 academic divisions, consisting of approximately 350 faculty members and several clinical multidisciplinary programs to cover the full spectrum of child health and disease.

The mission of the UT Southwestern Pediatric Hematology and Oncology Division is to provide excellent, high value care to infants, children, and adolescents while advancing the field through research and innovation as well as enhancing the education of future physicians. The growing Division is comprised of 36 faculty members who play a pivotal role in advancing the Division's clinical and scholarly programs focused on cancer and a myriad of blood diseases.

UT Southwestern seeks a national leader as the new Chief of the Division of Hematology and Oncology in the Department of Pediatrics. The position will report directly to the Department Chair, Dr. Jorge Bezerra, and will play a critical leadership role within the Department. The Chief will serve as a galvanizing and inspiring leader and will provide strategic, administrative, financial, and operational leadership and direction for the Division, with responsibility for the research, education and clinical missions. This leader will build on a foundation of success while defining the future culture of the Division, leveraging the talents of a diverse group of faculty, staff, fellows, residents, and students as the Department of Pediatrics and its primary health system partner, Children's Health, enter a period of unprecedented growth. This Chief will collaborate across the Department of Pediatrics, UT Southwestern and with key partners at Children's Health.

Nominations & Applications

Russell Reynolds Associates welcomes inquiries, nominations, and applications. To receive full consideration, interested individuals should electronically submit a Curriculum Vitae and a letter of interest to Russell Reynolds Associates. The letter of interest is a two- to three-page cover letter detailing your experience and key achievements related to this position and your thoughts on how you see yourself contributing to the initiatives and responsibilities described in this position specification. Letters should be addressed to the UT Southwestern Search Committee and submitted electronically. Materials will be reviewed immediately and will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled.

Interested candidates should submit materials to:

Kathy Vuturo & Carrie Carpenter
Consultants to the Search Committee
Russell Reynolds Associates
utswpedhemonc@russellreynolds.com

*UT Southwestern Medical Center is committed to an educational and working environment that provides equal opportunity to all members of the University community. As an equal opportunity employer, UT Southwestern prohibits unlawful discrimination, including discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, citizenship status, or veteran status. To learn more, please visit:
<https://jobs.utsouthwestern.edu/why-work-here/diversity-inclusion/>.*