

JAMES A. ROSSI – Worker's Compensation Defense Attorney

James A. Rossi is a managing shareholder and Co-Founder of California Self Insurance Law, APC. He is also the President and Managing Attorney of Rossi Law Group APC. His practice is dedicated to the aggressive and ethical defense of workers' compensation claims.

James has been defending various self-insured groups since 2004. He also has significant experience handling civil litigation involving catastrophic injuries and wrongful death, as well as appeals in the state and federal courts; he is admitted before the United States Supreme Court. In 2023, James was named a Southern California Super Lawyer for workers' compensation, awarded an AV rating by Martindale-Hubbell, and named among the Top 1% of America's Most Honored Attorneys in the American Registry.

He has been married for 26 years and has two children. He loves spending time with family and friends, playing softball, and following developments in the workers' compensation system.